JFK Death Report Termed Incomplete

An investigator into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy said Thursday that "the central question is not whose finger pulled the trigger, but the integrity of society."

Harold Weisberg, author of "Whitewash, the Report on the Warren Report," told several hundred University of Minnesota students that the Warren Report does not contain all the pertinent information.

The most important part of our national heritage is not in the National Archives, but is held by Life magazine, he said, referring to a film of the assassination.

"THE FILM totally destroys the Warren Report," he said, "but it is suppressed. Life said it had released it, but you try to get it."

Weisberg, who has worked with New Orleans Dist. Atty. a Jim Garrison in the investigation, suggested that "private authorities" may have been the real murderers of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Police radio cars were conveniently out of the area, the police phoned for an ambulance rather than rushing Oswald to the hospital via police car, and Oswald was prevented from talking in the ambulance by an intern who kept an oxygen resuscitator over his mouth, he said.

WEISBERG ALSO said he knew of people involved with Oswald in New Orleans who wanted to talk to the FBI but FBI officials wouldn't listen to them.

He added that a photograph of a man taken in Dallas, Tex., at the time of the assassination bears a strong resemblance to the FBI's sketch of the man wanted in connection with the murder of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King.

Throughout his talk he made frequent reference to the possibility that somewhere in the audience "big brother" was secretly taping his remarks.
